6

Rachel McCordic, AIM. “God is continuing to call people into missions, even during the pandemic. Travel is complicated, with various countries having different travel restrictions and COVID test requirements. This month, AIM will be hosting a Zoom orientation for new short-term and full-term missionaries. Please pray as Rachel navigates regulations and guides missionaries in their plans. Pray that orientation will be helpful, informative and a blessing.”

SUNDAY

David & Susan Jeffery, Abbotsford. “Spring term is half-finished. Pray for some students struggling with online studies and very much missing face-to-face interaction with their professors and fellow students. Pray that they will persevere with their course work and finish well.”

8

Luke & Yuko Elliot, OMF, Japan. “Pray for wisdom concerning the many important decisions that need to be made this month about beginning construction on our new main building. COVID has brought many challenges to this building project.”

9

Marg Roth. The roof in her senior’s apartment leaked. “Moving seemed to be so much easier when I was younger, and a couple of times, I have found myself in need of an attitude adjustment. COVID vaccine injections are complete, internet working again, Spring coming, so much to reflect on and be thankful to God for.” Pray for all our faithful Phase II missionaries.

10

Geri Rodman. Pray for the March 11 Chinese Partners Leadership meeting, as Geri will be leaving the organization this summer after 25 years’ involvement. Pray for good endings and decisions. Also, lift South American heads of IFES ministries as Geri and they respond to leadership during this stage of COVID.

11

Hanneke Cost Budde, AIM, Tanzania. “COVID in TZ. is spreading, and there is little protective gear for health workers. So far, the vaccine has been refused entry into the country. Pray for God’s divine intervention all over the world regarding this. Pray for Jacky and her pregnancy that the Lord will teach her to obey and trust Him. Pray for wisdom for me and stamina.”

12

Leah Hopp, Uganda. Leah returned to Uganda in late Feb. She met Agnes, her research advisor in Mbale, to discuss their research’s next steps. Then she returned to her Karamoja home. Leah has been teaching herself a new statistics programme (STATA) to use in data analysis. Please pray for many blessings throughout the project in the coming months.

13

Jack and Mary Anne Voelkel. Please pray for God’s healing touch through the spinal surgery that Jack will undergo in the latter part of March to correct the cause of his sciatica. They have been encouraged by the testimony of several who have experienced this procedure with positive results.

Please pray that Isaac, Susan & Solomon will have wisdom as they make their choices.

Pray that this much-needed teaching will help the local pastors accurately handle the word of truth and proclaim God's word boldly."

Ann Chow, Event & Project Management. "Thanks for your continued prayer support. Things are slower these days, but I see it as a mini-sabbatical and a chance to rest. Mr. Ondy died recently, and now their daughter, Ice, has died suddenly, leaving Mrs. Ondy and two late teen sons to grieve. Ice was head of the Middle school at Senggo. 25

KYDFB. Pray for the young adults who are being served, and for the committee. The program continues to be a food bank only during this pandemic period. Food and rent are two enormous challenges for our
