Bill Fitch, Listen to Learn, East Africa.

“Listen to Learn is sending 2 of our executive team to Kenya next month for 20 days.” They’ll be spending strategic evaluation and planning time with our Kenyan staff, attending a few graduations to encourage students, and spending time in two of our more marginal areas where we have historically made a huge investment in schools and translation—Turkana and the Maasai lands. “Please pray for Todd Jones and Markus Koehler between Oct. 31 and Nov. 19!”

I & S. Perspectivas, Brasil. It is likely that the greatest barrier to Brazilian sending in the next decade will be agencies equipped to send missionaries well. On Nov. 5, they welcome the TEAM board as they explore creating a sending structure from Brazil. Nov. 7th, they join the AMTB conference for sending from Brazil. Please pray for good connections, wisdom and logistics. Thank God for providing all January homestays needed for their Brazilian ministry workers to learn English!

Paul & Mary Beth McLean, PCC, Taiwan.

“Paul is in Taiwan all this month. May God grant him good health and safety as he visits the 12 Bible translation teams he supports. May each team work accurately and faithfully and make steady progress as the Holy Spirit empowers and directs them.”

Colin & Rachel McCordic, AIM. “Please pray for an online orientation on the 12th that Colin and several other Chad missionaries will be joining for the French Perspectives Program. Internet can be very problematic. Also, pray for good conversations with Christian leaders about missions and mobilization. Pray for Rachel’s class that they will grow both academically and spiritually.”

SUNDAY

Chyrl Basa, FFM. Please pray for FFM’s annual Global Day of Prayer on Nov 12th. You can register to participate at <https://www.ffmna.org/globaldayofprayer>

Dave & Rani, Brampton. “Please pray for Devanand (now in Guyana); for safety. Also, that things will go smoothly as he does live TV program outreach to Hindus. Please pray for Rani and Deepak in Brampton; Rani gets lonely without her husband! :) Please also pray for Anu, Rani's sister, suffering from bipolar disease in India."

Elizabeth Matthias, MTW, Germany. "A new season of ministry has begun-- finally. Mentoring classes and church-wide training has begun! This month is especially intense to find a new rhythm in step with the Spirit. Grateful for prayers!"

John Bowen. "On November 18th, at 6.15am (EST), I have been asked to speak via Zoom to a group of 100 international high schoolers in Britain, on the subject of 'Faith.' The event is organized by a Christian teacher and, since there are few Christians at the school, he is hoping it will stir interest in the Gospel. Please pray for wisdom about how to approach the subject and for the power of the Spirit to work across Zoom—and then for follow-up by the teacher!"

10

Leah Hopp, OPC, Uganda. "I am working towards building up a team of people to work with for my next research project. Please pray that we can all complement each other well with various talents and different strengths. I want to submit a research proposal to the Ugandan Ethics Board before the end of the year as that decision can take many months. Please pray for clarity and wisdom as we set scope for our study."

11

Khevna & Sharon, Knox Missions Hub. "Praise God for recent times of discipleship and workshops on 'Is Missions Still Good?' where students were challenged to recognize history, reorient hearts to God's biblical heart for the nations, and redeem ideas of missions. Pray for many students to take bold steps of faith and consider serving God in new ways!"

Hanneke Cost Budde, Tanzania.

"Thanksgiving for a very good time in Toronto, visiting many good friends. I am thankful for having been able to have a visit with Dr. McCombie and to attend his funeral. I am thankful that the physio is working but I still have a long way to go. Thanks for a good visit with family in Holland. Pray for Baraka's final exam for his Secondary school."

SUNDAY

Elaine Esser. "May we continue to pray for our leaders in all levels of government that the Lord would enable them to make wise decisions in these difficult times."

14

Luke & Yuko Elliot, Aomori Christian Center, Japan.

"Please continue to pray for progress on the Aomori Christian Center's building project while we are in Toronto on home assignment. Pray for wisdom in our long-distance coordination of different areas of the work. Pray that the work will be done well, to God's glory."

15

Gus & Marliese, London. "We are continuing our discussions with the Jehovah Witness background Metis mother and two adult children and it's going well. They have left these beliefs, so pray that they will continue to grow in spiritual understanding. Pray also that the Bible readings I have with my Yazidi friend will be blessed."

16

Kim Morrison, Knox Community

Outreach Coordinator. Uphold Kim in this new role of reaching out to single mothers with children under four years of age, and other special needs groups. May she be a blessed witness to Christ and His love.

17

Ann Chow, Event & Project Management. “I’ll be meeting with Partners International Canada board in Toronto, then going to Portugal for vacation, and Switzerland to see the work of A Rocha. Switzerland.”

18

Wayne & Helen Hancock, Threefold Ministries, Nicaragua. Join us in praising God for the pastors who this month will complete two years of our Christian Leadership Training. We are thankful for those who have taught (including Pastor Deane from PEI and Bruce in Ontario) by Zoom, and Mauricio on site. Pray that those who have received this training will continue to teach God's word faithfully.

19

Jack & Mary Anne Voelkel. “Mary Anne and Jack praise the Lord for abundantly answering prayer for the weary and dry faculty, staff, and students of the Biblical Seminary in Medellin. The 4-day prayer retreat brought deep, needed refreshment to many lives, a renewed commitment to having a daily quiet time, and spawned a brand-new weekly prayer meeting for all. PRAISE THE LORD!”

SUNDAY

Mary Jane Fandrich. “Six little Somalis aged three to twelve, reading Bible Stories and coloring Bible story pictures: “Who is this Man that even the wind and waves obey Him?” ...As I visit again and again my Islamic friends and seek the opening for witness and the sharing of God’s unbounding love, I need your prayers not to get discouraged.”

21

Sylvan Payne, Japan. “Some great news. I just heard from one of my part time teaching jobs. They want me back to teach part time next year. I’m delighted to have something to do in retirement. This is an answer to prayer for us. Please pray that I will have the strength and balance to be able to do the work.”

22

Sylvia Dresser. “Ask for the Lord's clear direction regarding the future of the Bible School in Merauke. With a branch school of the Theological College on the N. coast opened in the Awyu area, and few students applying for the lower-level school, should it be upgraded to a theological college? Papua has been divided into 4 provinces and Merauke will be capital of South Papua.”

23

C & K. One company saw more revenue in Sept. than through all of 2021 and three times the school bookings planned. Recovery from the pandemic seems to be underway. They have a major challenge identifying new hires, however, so please pray for this BAM company to find the Lord's right new employees. C's trips to Bangladesh, the Gulf, and Kazakhstan have been fruitful. Pray for his upcoming travel to Pakistan, Malaysia, and places yet to be confirmed.

24

Susan Jeffery, CANIL, Abbotsford. “Pray for students who are stressed with assignments to complete, lack of sleep, etc., that they will persevere and not give in to discouragement. Particularly remember international students who have the extra challenge of studying in a language that’s not their own. Many aren’t Christians, but some are curious to learn about Jesus. One of our CanIL students lives on campus in the men’s dorm for international students. Pray for God-appointed opportunities to share and encourage.”

25

Carluci & Christina Dos Santos, LAM.

Carluci has been working on two new initiatives amongst the Latin American diaspora across Canada: mobilization for missions and theological education. This will require connecting with church leaders to promote events and follow up to build good relationships and networks. "I praise God for the recent opportunity to speak at a Mission event in a Spanish church in Vancouver and for another event in Montreal. Please pray for a clear vision and Spiritual empowerment for the task."

26

Xerggyo & Hil. "We spent our first night in our tiny house enjoying a good Chiapas coffee and the sound of so many birds. Our friend, the pastor, came to pray for our house, and we had a small celebration with friends. Although the house is not finished yet, it will be a home for us when we come home on furloughs. We are so thankful for those who made this possible."

SUNDAY

Jim Mason. "The Prison Ministry vehicle visits 13 Prison facilities in the Southern part of Ghana. Many lives have been touched and transformed through these visits. The vehicle has done 153,841 km since its arrival in 2017. With the poor state of our roads, it needs to be replaced as the state of the engine and its mechanics makes it expensive to maintain. Pray the Lord will send an appropriate replacement to enable this ministry to thrive."

28

Barbara Rahn. Barbara rejoiced in the fall beauty of the trees, especially the maple outside her window. "What a gorgeous display of the Lord's handiwork!" The long-awaited visit from her sister Carol and family, for which Barbara asked prayer, was a real blessing.

29

Knox World Mission Committee. They need to add new members. May the Lord guide in all and bring forward those with a heart for mission and witness to Christ.

30

Phase II Workers. Glenn & Fern Byerly, Eleanor Crabtree, Diane Dadian, Gladys Linthicum, Norine Love, Patsy McCarthy, Clarence & Cathy McMullen, David & Angela Morris, Marg Roth, Pamela Stedman, Diana Wadsworth and Rosemary Walker.
